

"TOWN vs. GOWN" is a traditional phrase used for centuries to describe the sometime strained relationship between college people and the permanent residents of the town or city in which the college is located.

The phrase may have originated in Oxford University in England but has been applied universally to college-city situations.

Campbell during the past three years has had its own "Town vs. Gown" condition brought about, of course, by the "temporary" location of West Valley College in the old Campbell Grammar School at Winchester and Campbell avenues.

Despite the overcrowded conditions that exist at the college, on the whole, this particular town-gown bit has been quite satisfactory... up to a point.

There are many advantages, culturally and otherwise, in having a junior college campus within the city environs.

Unfortunately, in attempting to cram 3500 day students and 2500 night students into substandard and inadequate facilities, something has to give.

In such a situation, a tight-rope walker with the finest diplomatic training in the world would be hard-pressed to avoid gripes of one sort or another developing from students, faculty or townspeople.

Dr. Wallace Hall, college president, and his staff, have done a commendable job in maintaining community relations at a high level. It is to their credit that the gripes involving, at its best or worst, a frustrating situation have been at a minimum.

But even Wally, we know, shudders at the local parking problems that have arisen in this mobile age which has put our youth on wheels.

If the parking lots are full, the "wheels" must go some place... And it has been the residential streets adjacent to the college that take the beating.

AND that, friends, has tended to make this particular "town-gown" routine a wee bit sticky.

But, then again, you can't stack 'em on top of each other.

COLLEGE STUDENTS with their wheels, for the most part, have recognized the difficulties and have been cooperative.

There have been some instances where an inconsiderate party will block a driveway and then rush off to class.

And there have been other cases where college students have ignored the sign explaining that the post office parking lot was only for postal patrons, and have parked for hours in one of the few spaces by the post office.

That jam of postal patrons and college students at Latimer and Esther at the peak traffic hours can be discon-

$40,201 low bid

Council awards Budd Ave. job

A Campbell firm on Monday night was awarded the contract by the City Council for the long-awaited improvement of Budd Ave. (from Winchester to Virginia) on a low bid of $40,201.30.

R. J. Zipse Paving Co., Inc., of 75 Cris-tich Ln., the successful bidder of the nine firms trying for the job, was $13,830.50 below the engineer's estimate of $54,031.80.

The bids ranged from the low of $40,201.30 to a high of $56,663.35, all but one below the engineer's estimate. The Zipse bid was $1,152.75 lower than its closest competitor, A. J. Raich Co.

City Engineer Bill Wren explained that the contract includes sidewalks in one area which the property owners will finance and it also includes a temporary sidewalk on the north side of Budd and curbs and gutters.

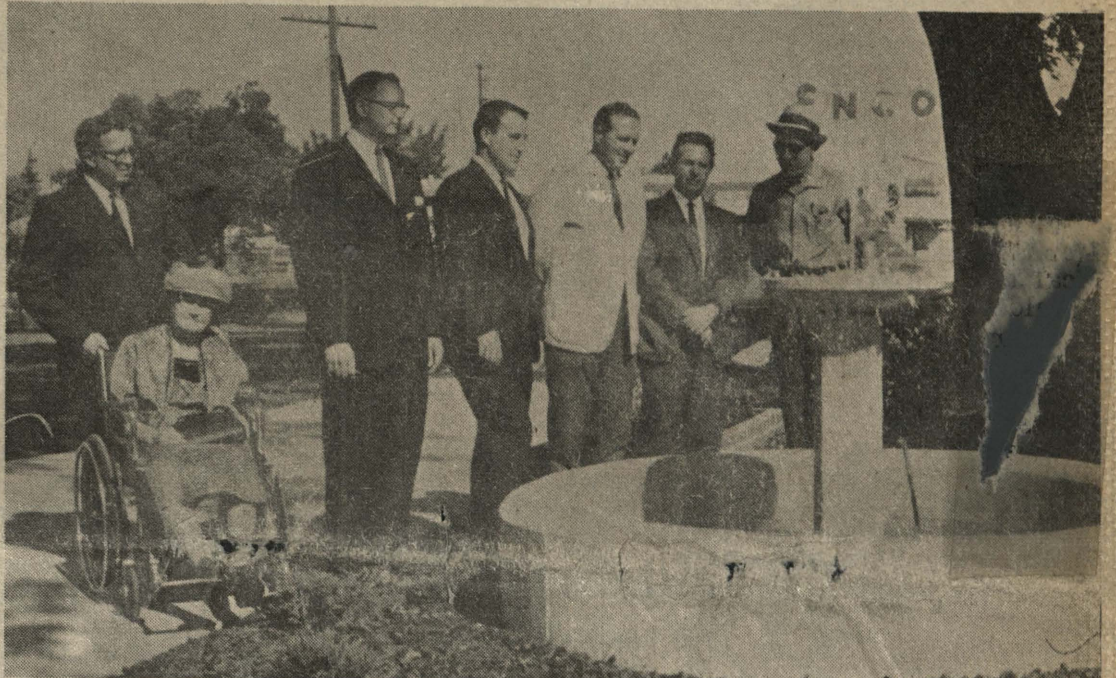

Councilmen were doubly pleased to see that the contract was less than the estimate and that the work would finally get underway on the street which is contemplated to take an increasing heavy load of traffic now that two lanes of San Tomas Expressway have been opened.

Campbell city officials had hoped that the two traffic lanes on the expressway would not be opened past Campbell Ave. until the Budd Ave. job had been completed but had been overruled by the county.

Council members felt that this premature opening of the expressway would not only interfere with the construction work on Budd but was also over-taxing the already "mad-house" at the Sunnyoaks-Camden-expressway-freeway off-ramp road complex.

MAKING IT OFFICIAL --City councilmen and Jaycee officials took part in dedication Friday of this city's smallest but most complete park. As a civic project, the Jaycees installed improvements in the tiny park, between the two walnut trees at Campbell and Harrison. The trees have become this city's landmark. Taking part, left to right, were Mayor Ralph Doetsch; Bob Dalzell, Jaycee president; Dave Norman, Jerry Duncan, Jaycee officers, and Councilmen Ed Rogers and Charles Rose. In the chair is Mrs. Gertrude Stanford, 39 N. Central, Campbell pioneer.

REMINISCING--On the rustic redwood bench in the shade of the two ancient walnut trees, three councilmen (left to right) Mayor Ralph Doetsch, Ed Rogers and Charles Rose, hear tales of pioneer days in Campbell from Mrs. Gertrude Stanford, long-time Campbell resident.

JUST TESTING--City Manager Bob Stephens appears to be testing both the temperature and the depth of the water in the bubbling fountain at the tiny city park at Harrison and Campbell avenues.

Voters approve school district tax rate

Voters in the Campbell Union (elementary) District on Tuesday, Sept. 26, gave their overwhelming endorsement to a five-year continuation of the current $2.55 tax rate from July 1, 1967 to June 30, 1972.

The vote was 2772 in favor to 1462 opposed, a 65% favorable vote.

The tax rate that the voters approved had been originally authorized in 1962.

Only in two (Monroe and Hamilton) precincts of the 18 in the election did the voters turn down the proposal. Precincts were set up in all the schools, except Rolling Hills, in the district. Forest Hill with 82.4% had the highest favorable vote, followed by Hazelwood with 78.7%.

The vote breakdown: Moorpark, yes, 112; no, 101; San Tomas, yes, 26; no, 16; Hazelwood, yes, 289; no, 78; Hamilton, yes, 55; no, 65; Rosemary, yes, 199; no, 65; Cypress, yes, 83; no, 60; Quito, yes, 204; no, 86; Campbell, yes, 140; no, 94; Dover, yes, 274; no, 133; Monroe, yes, 125; no, 127; Sherman Oaks, yes, 166; no, 96; Parkway, yes, 108; no, 71; Blackford, yes, 136; no, 111; Lynhaven, yes, 166; no, 99; Marshall Lane, yes, 119; no, 64; Forest Hill, yes, 187; no, 40; Capri, yes, 164; no, 68; Castlemont, yes, 208; no, 67.

However, of the total of 29 absentee ballots cast, 21 opposed to the tax continuation to eight in favor.

GRAND OPENING--Dick's No. 11, Super Market, at Hacienda and San Tomas Aquino Road, is scheduled to be officially opened at 9 a.m., this Thursday. City officials, along with members of the Topaz Builders, Inc., developers of the Rolling Hills Center, and the Dick Yee family, will be on hand for the opening ceremonies. The attractive new market will be loaded with grand opening specials. A full page advertisement for the market will be found elsewhere in the Campbell Press.

Editorial

Don't forget Campbell

When the governing board of West Valley Junior College District and the Campbell City Council held a joint meeting recently there were some interesting developments.

These developments, by the way, could have a direct or indirect bearing on the course that the West Valley College steers during the next decade.

All five councilmen present indicated they would like to see a permanent campus of the college located in Campbell.

The councilmen realized that such an eventuality was not part of the present development program of the college district as outlined but they suggested they thought it should be.

The councilmen were well aware that the expansion plans of the college district hinge a great deal on the outcome of the $21.5 million bond issue on Nov. 8. They also were aware that the college board had specified that the first permanent campus was to be built in Santa Clara.

The councilmen's point, however, and we wholeheartedly agree with their thinking, was that a definite basis can be shown for the need of some college facility to be located in Campbell, even if there were two other permanent campus sites in the district.

In our opinion there is sound logic in the arguments presented by the councilmen.

We have long advocated that Campbell is the logical site for some development affiliated with the college. We realize, as do the councilmen, that perhaps it is not feasible to have a "complete" campus in Campbell.

On the other hand, some phase of the college activity could be located in this community that could be part of the complete college program. We don't set ourselves up as an expert in this field but we can visualize the present "temporary" campus utilized for one or more departments.

We are well aware of the basic argument against such a suggestion: It would spread the activities of the college to a great extent making it more difficult to administer, etc. etc.

We concede this point.

BUT, according to the present thinking of the experts, the college is going to be "spread" over at least three campuses in the future.

Surely all three "colleges" will not duplicate (or triplicate) ALL the courses. It seems logical that one campus could offer programs that would be different than the others.

Therefore, the Campbell city councilmen submit that there some phase that could be offered in Campbell?

One of the councilmen went even further.

He suggested a limited enrollment for the Campbell site and that the buildings could "go up" instead of "out". It was also suggested that more acreage could be acquired in town.

We sincerely believe that these suggestions of the Campbell city councilmen should be explored to the fullest.

One councilman put it rather bluntly: The Campbell people have put up with a great deal during the first three years of the "temporary" occupation and the situation will not improve during the next few years, if the growth pattern is maintained.

He said that it would appear to be grossly unfair to this community to have had to put up with these trying conditions on a "temporary permanent" basis and then be left high and dry when the permanent campus is built.

We agree.

And there is even a more salient point.

Enrollment projections indicate that the growth could conceivably be such that the first permanent campus will not be able to accommodate all the students. Therefore, the "temporary permanent" Campbell arrangements would have to be continued indefinitely.

The councilman indicated also that they would not be overly happy to continue with the "temporary" arrangement on such a permanent basis.

They mentioned that they would not be at all enthusiastic over an expansion of what was termed "hutville" on the Campbell site.

In effect, they intimated that unless Campbell was part of the permanent picture, they would like to see the temporary arrangement terminate as soon as possible.

Again we agree.

The longer West Valley College stays in Campbell, the deeper its roots will go into this community. Notwithstanding whether the status is "temporary" or "permanent". Pulling up these roots and moving off lock, stock and classroom will leave a void in this community.

This "void" can be avoided, we maintain along with the councilmen, if Campbell becomes an integral part of the future planning for the college.

The college governing board, after the joint meeting, appeared much appreciative of this point of view. They agreed that the idea should be pursued in detail after Nov. 8.

The board members felt, and probably with ample justification, that until the fate of the $21.5 million bond issue was decided Nov. 8 any commitments with respect to Campbell would be premature.

But we are not at all sure that it is necessary to wait for the passage of the bonds to bring Campbell into the future picture.

We wholeheartedly endorse the $21.5 million bond issue for the college district.

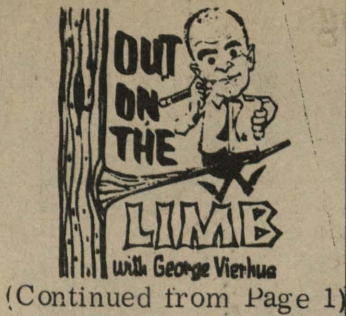

We firmly believe that a permanent campus must be built and the only way this can be done is by the bond issue.

We dislike the "appeasement" that apparently has been necessary but we still maintain that the welfare of the students is of prime purpose and a permanent campus is needed in the district.

But we also add a P.S. . . .

Just don't forget Campbell. . . .

certing, and is, to all concerned.

To have a college student latch onto one of the few parking spaces available at the post office and hold it for hours is not the best way to improve "town-gown" relations.

That is for sure.

WE SAW Dick Adams, assistant, postmaster, examining a college student's car that had been left in one of the prime spaces the other day.

We don't know if Dick was able to personally accost the owner of the car when the college students returned for it after a lecture in one of the college classrooms.

We would have been liked to have been around.

We got the impression from Dick's attitude that the "lecture" this particular college student would receive from the assistant postmaster would have covered the situation quite vividly and realistically, without any visual aid on the part of the "professor".

THERE IS a moral to all this some place.

This town-gown situation is a two-way street.

"Town" concedes that the college is here and will work with it.

But "gown" must also remember that "town" is around. It was here before the college and will be here if and when the college departs to permanent quarters some years hence.

THE RECENT JOINT meeting between the college governing board and the city council to discuss mutual current problems, as well as the future of the college as related to Campbell, resulted in a better understanding of the problems that face both groups.

The college board was pleased to learn that the city council, even after the college's trying first years in its temporary quarters in town, still would welcome the college on a permanent basis in the city.

But the board also learned that the councilmen would not be overjoyed in continuing the expansion of temporary facilities.

ONE OF THE current problems discussed was the complaint of students that they couldn't make it from Latimer to Rincon (through the signals at Campbell-Winchester) in the allotted time (10 - minutes) between classes.

It had been suggested that additional crosswalks could cut down the time.

But city staff has frowned on this because it could complicate the vehicular traffic even more than it is at present.

Pet monkey disappears

It has been nearly three weeks since "Dolly", an eight months old tamed, female chimpanzee disappeared from the home of Gene Miller, 156 Rincon Ave. Neighbors in the area have reported seeing her jumping from tree to tree, but there haven't been any new reports of her whereabouts lately.

Miller asks that anyone seeing the pet to let him know. Dolly's favorite food is not bananas, according to her owner. She has a taste for carrots, apples, grapes and peaches. When last seen she was still wearing her collar and chain in the neighborhood of California and Budd Ave. Miller can be contacted by calling 378-1464.

Hamilton Ave. tree planting nears completion

Have you noticed Hamilton Ave. from Winchester to Phoenix Dr. lately? The last phase of planting the divider strips is nearly complete. The project has been a combined operation of the City of Campbell and the Campbell Garden Club. Approximately 50 Erythronema Eucalyptus trees raised from seed by the Saratoga Horticultural Foundation will be planted this week.

Already thriving are graceful young Eucalyptus Maculosa trees, and Convulvius ground cover in the narrow dividers. The Campbell Garden Club, through its Civic Beautification Committee headed by Mrs. Minnie Snyder, furnished all the trees and plants. The labor and sprinkling system was provided by the city. The Garden Club raised a portion of the funds by sponsoring a raffle.

At the present time city employees are trimming some of the foliage from the young trees in order to strengthen the trunks. It is expected that the trees will reach full height in five years.

Thieves hit local market

Campbell Police are investigating a burglary of Pep's Sooper Super Market, 980 E. Campbell Ave., which occurred during the early morning hours of Sept. 23. An open door on the south side of the building was discovered by Officer Ed Fagatter during a routine night check.

The meat display cases had been ransacked and a large amount of cigarettes were stolen. $250 in cash was also removed from the store office. Police later found 2 large boxes of loot stashed under a palm tree near Eunice Mason Interiors. The location was apparently used as a "pick-up" spot by the thieves. Joseph Vierra is the owner of Pep's Market.

Letters to the Editor

DRAFT STATUS
Dear Editor,
This letter is intended to clear up some of the confusion which appeared in The Campbell Press, June, 1966. However, the purpose of this letter is a demonstration of some of the injustices of the present Selective Service System.

The June, 1966, article was an announcement of a fellowship of $3,510 given to me by the University of Chicago. Since that time my local draft board, Number 60, has been notified of this and has been provided with all of the necessary documents.

However, despite this huge grant, draft board Number 60 has reclassified me IA, which will prevent my taking full advantage of this golden opportunity.

Their reason for classifying me IA was that they believe I am not a fully capable student because I am not in the top quarter of my class—a concept which they have failed to define.

However, who is best qualified to judge me, the five universities that have accepted me for graduate work, including the University of Chicago, or the draft board? How blind is local draft board Number 60 to the facts?

FAST RESPONSE—First to answer the "Call to Arms" issued this week by Edward A. Panelli, chairman of West Valley College's bond committee, were the college students themselves, shown here presenting Panelli, second from right, with a sizeable contribution to help finance the campaign to get the $21,500,000 bond issue approved at the polls Nov. 8. Making presentation, left center,

Students give check to aid bond campaign

The people who will benefit most from successful passage of the West Valley College's $21,500,000 bond issue Nov. 8--the students themselves--were the first to answer the bond committee's "Call to Arms" by making a sizeable contribution to the campaign this week. Christopher Brent, student body president, presented the check to Edward A. Panelli, prominent San Jose attorney and Saratoga resident, who earlier in the week accepted chairmanship of the committee.

Panelli, who recently resigned as a charter member of the Governing Board of West Valley College, after moving out of the high school district attendance area he served, issued the "Call to Arms" in support of the belief that it is "imperative" the bond issue be passed in November.

Other student leaders accompanying Brent in the presentation included Christine Schirle, Skip Riddle, Ricky Mayer, Robert Anderson, Stormi Weiser and Judy Duckles. They expressed the hope other organizations or individuals would "jump on the bandwagon" and answer Panelli's "Call to Arms."

Panelli had observed earlier that the West Valley College District's sole reason for existence is to provide college facilities for the young people of the district in which they could receive the best possible education within the district's residents' means to provide.

"We shall have to have a new campus as soon as possible," Panelli said, "and I call upon all of the people of the district to join in this worthwhile crusade to provide their children with education facilities designed to give them the best possible opportunity to learn."

Volunteers are needed to work in any phase for the bond campaign. Campaign headquarters are located at 70 W. Mission Way in Campbell, two blocks south of Winchester Blvd. The telephone is 378-5252.

LATE AS USUAL--Trains and Carnivals seem to have a bad habit of turning up at the wrong time! (Late!) and so it went at San Tomas Village's scheduled Carnival, last Thursday. The truck that was hauling the rides (not the train!) broke down, and so the many children and parents had to wait for Friday afternoon for the fun! The well laid plans of mice AND shopping centers seem to go off schedule...as well as trains.

Football, elections highlight week's activities at local schools

Warrior World

by RUSS LONG

Lookout Bellarmine, here we come. Last Friday, Westmont ran as string to ten straight football wins, trouncing Irvington 26-6 on the victor's field.

Harry Wright and Roy Grillo led the attack by the West Valley Athletic League title holders. Roy plucked passes from quarterback Greg Miles with hands of glue, while Harry would slip by Irvington tacklers as if covered with grease. A good crowd-pleasing game, and next Friday the boys hope to make it eleven straight against Washington.

Kathy Bailey, Karen Buckle, Peggy Dell, Aque Sakamoto, and Wendy Moncreif, Westmont's Varsity cheerleaders, aroused enough spirit in the crowd to be heard a mile away. That figure is a fact, from a reliable source. With sounds like that, we should take the spirit trophy this year.

Long hours of practice showed as the song girls did their routine to the fight song, played by the band. Novene Isaksen, Jill Latvala, Linda Mohr, Marilyn Ruick, head, and Linda Van Kirk, are the lovely lasses involved in this active group. Now gals, how about coordinating the end of your routine to the end of the bands music?

FOOTBALL DANCE

Following the game, the "Welcome Warrior" dance was held in the cafeteria. Crowded was not the word for the condition inside. Have you ever tried to dance in about one square foot of floor space? Lots of fun, providing you don't want to move around much.

DOWN HE GOES--West Valley College defensive back, Jim Micelli (18) stops a San Jose college runner in last Friday's grid battle in which San Jose City College came out on top 21-12. Coming to the aid of Micelli is Dave Danes (55) formerly of Westmont High, Rich Daugherty (14) and Bill Grewohl (11) formerly of Camden High. West Valley College Viking gridders meet Los Angeles City College this Friday night at Buck Shaw stadium at University of Santa Clara. Kickoff is 8 p.m. This will be the second meeting between the two schools. The Vikings lost last year 19-6.

Spirit was in the lime-light at Campbell last week as everyone readied themselves for the season's football opener against Soquel last Friday. Highlighting the week-long call for enthusiasm was an all school rally Friday afternoon, which included introduction of the coaches and their teams. Despite a 48-18 varsity loss, spirit at the rally and at the game was the best shown at Campbell for at least three years. The Soph-Frosh team showed great promise in whipping their opponent 38-0.

During half-time of the varsity game the infamous Buc Marching Band dazzled the spectators with snappy marching and crisp music, as they presented another of their laudable performances. When the band would come to a halt, the fans' eyes were held by the precise drills of the "pert and pretty" Pirettes, flag girls, and majorettes. Drum major Howard Duckett and band director Mr. William Perkins are to be commended for their accomplishments with this group.

CLASS ELECTIONS
Another matter of importance on our campus was the election of class officers. These people will lead their respective classes for the entire fall semester: Senior class - Ed Atix, president; Mike Nelson, vice-president; Vickie Luoto, secretary; Tom Brown, treasurer. Junior class - Don Silva, president; Carol Benbow, vice-president; Patti Straw, secretary; Jan Burton, treasurer. Freshman class - Phil Woodhouse, president; Denise Delucchi, vice-president; Kathy Garlick, secretary; Mary Nelson, treasurer. The ballots from the Sophomore class came in late and were not tallied in time to give results in this edition. However, I will have the winners of those races next week.

This Wednesday, Sept. 28, at 7:30 p.m., Campbell counseling staff, headed by Mrs. Marye Parker, will present a senior parent workshop in the school cafeteria. Pertinent information will be given concerning not only college bound students, but also those considering a vocational career or military service immediately after high school. Also to be presented is a question-answer session which will be provided, time permitting, during which counselors will refer parents to persons who can answer the inquiries they themselves cannot.

"Lions White Cane Days affords the opportunity for the generous heart of our community to be eyes for the sight needy," says Lion Bob James, White Cane Chairman for the Campbell Lions Club, in reminding local residents of his group's drive to supplement his Club's sight conservation fund.

Volunteers will be on hand at the local banks and post office on Friday, Sept. 30 to accept donations.

Just one of the 800 California-Nevada Lions Clubs who use sight conservation funds to serve their sight needy neighbors, the local Lions report that last year's revenue was used to provide 17 local elementary and high school students with eyeglasses which their parents were unable to afford and assist in further completion of the Santa Clara County Center for The Blind, a project sponsored by all county Lions Clubs.

The nearly quarter million dollars raised in the two states last year also assisted in support of Lion Eye Clinics, Sight Research Laboratories, Retirement homes, Seeing Eye Dog Centers and Blind Youth development schools.

Lawyers' Wives begin fall activities with luncheon

Lawyers' Wives of Santa Clara County will hold their first Fall luncheon meeting at the Villa Felice on Wednesday, Oct. 5.

Officers for Lawyers' Wives during the 1966-1967 year include: Mrs. Lee Diel, president; Mrs. Stephen Gazzera, vice-president; Mrs. T. S. Cruise, recording secretary; Mrs. James E. Jackson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William G. Kinder, treasurer; and Mrs. Spencer Williams, state representative.

Also on the Executive Board are: Mrs. James Duvaras, parliamentarian; Mrs. Donald Currin, member-at-large, and Mrs. Mark Cali, program coordinator.

Membership in Lawyers' Wives of Santa Clara County is open to all wives of members of the Santa Clara County Bar Association and to the wives of judges of the County.

Del Mar Dateline

by LINDA DEL GRANDE

This year Del Mar has the pleasure of welcoming five new teachers to the campus.

They are Miss Bogart, girls' P.E.; Mr. W. Brown, World Civilization and U.S. History; Mrs. Darney, English; Mr. Larson, World Civilization and Band; and Mr. Mullen, World Civilization and Modern History.

We, the students of Del Mar hope that they will find the student body courteous and cooperative.

The Varsity Cheerleaders have a very becoming outfit this fall. It consists of a white blouse, black pullover sweater, black and white checked pleated skirt with black insets, and black and white saddle shoes.

The Song Girls' outfit is a white sleeveless jumper. The front of the skirt is white and the back is black pleats. They are wearing black tennis shoes.

ELECTIONS
Frosh-Soph officers will be elected today, Sept. 28. Junior-Senior officers will be elected Thursday, Sept. 29.

The Kick-Off dance will be held Friday, Sept. 30. This is Del Mar's first big dance of the year. During the dance a Kick-Off Queen will be selected from the cheerleaders and song girls.

SPORTS
The Logan-Del Mar varsity football game will also be held this Friday at 3 p.m.

There will be a cross country meet this Thursday, Sept. 29. Los Gatos, Del Mar and Westmont will be competing at Del Mar at 3:30 p.m.

Last Friday, Sept. 23, pictures were taken of the student body for the 1966-67 yearbook.

Few withdraw from WV College

Withdrawals for all reasons--illness, change of residence or change of heart for the 6135 students at West Valley College--are at a scant four per cent this semester, according to Donald Ziegler, dean of admissions.

"The huge enrollment increase and the tremendous demand for classes, any classes, have made our students think twice about dropping anything," Ziegler said. "Our students look about them, at the masses trying to get into this class and they are more and more content to stay put."

The "high water mark" in registrations through last week was 6295 students. Of these, 112 day and 48 evening students--a total of 260--have since withdrawn, leaving a total of 6135. Of these 3598 are day and 2537 are evening students.

S.J. Republican women slate fashion show

The San Jose Republican Women, Federated has scheduled its annual fund raising Fashion Show Luncheon for Saturday, Oct. 1, in the Fiesta Room of Lou's Village.

The theme is "A Date to Remember" and will feature fashions from Marcus Furs and Apparel. Church Connors, star of television and motion pictures, will be the commentator. The rugged Connors announcing ladies' fashions should prove very interesting.

The fashion show committee consists of Mrs. Richard F. Cain, general chairman, with Mrs. Carl L. Fridenstine, Mrs. Warren T. Christensen and Mrs. George A. McIntosh, reservations co-chairmen.

Entertainment during intermission will be provided by the San Jose Light Opera Association and will include selections from Camelot.

The models include Mrs. Melinda Piccioni, Mrs. Joseph L. Haskins, Mrs. Charles Shea, Mrs. Russell O'Brien, Mrs. A. J. Scoffone, Mrs. Robert E. Jones of Campbell, Mrs. Ernest Gong-Guy, Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mrs. Thomas Gianetto, Mrs. Sybil Thal, Mrs. James Robb, Mrs. John Lincoln, Jr., Mrs. Roy Ireland and Mrs. J. Frederic Snyder.

Senior parent workshop tonight at Campbell High

Tonight at 7:30 in the Campbell High School Cafeteria, a senior parent workshop night will be held for the purpose of helping parents to assist their senior sons and daughters with the many decisions that must be made this year.

The information to be presented at this meeting will be of interest to parents of all seniors, not just those of college bound students.

In addition to college information, material will be presented for those students who seek a vocational career or plan to enter military service immediately after high school.

The counselors, under the direction of senior class counselor Mrs. Marye Parker, have prepared a display of available counseling material, including bulletins and leaflets on college entrance, scholarships, financial aid, military obligations, and apprenticeships.

Mrs. Parker will also give parents a list of scheduled senior activities for the coming year, including details and cost of each activity.

The problems affecting students in their senior year will also be discussed. Those in charge hope that parent awareness will help students avoid mistakes which leave them a few credits short of graduation or in choice of college.

Time permitting, a question-answer period will be provided at the end of the meeting. Parents of all seniors are encouraged to attend.

Campbell Park, the first such development in the City of Campbell's history, moved closer to reality on Monday night when the City Council awarded the contract for $28,216 for the first phase of the park on Los Gatos Creek.

Campbell embarked on a new phase in its expansion and improvement program this week with the employment of a full time city planner, Orville H. Overen, 34. Overen will take the place of a planning consultant who is on a retainer's basis that has been in effect since the city was incorporated.

San Jose-Los Gatos Rd. from Stevens Creek Rd. to the town limits of Los Gatos is to become Bascom Ave. on Jan. 1, 1962, according to the action of the Board of Supervisors.

ON CAPITOL HILL

with "Charlie" Gubser

In previous issues of "On Capitol Hill" I discussed the recent trend toward finding an appealing slogan and then writing a law around it. Frequently the advertised purpose of the law is insignificant when compared with the mass of regulation which surrounds it. The Administration proposed "truth-in-packaging" bill is a prime example. What could be wrong with "truth in packaging" and how could anyone oppose a bill with such a high-sounding purpose? Admittedly, the "cents off" gimmicks and the "jumbo" and "giant size" labels on pint-sized packages of "Crunchy Wunchy" cereal, et al, is bad practice. But the truth-in-packaging bill proposed by the Administration went far beyond making price comparisons easier for the housewife. It prescribed rules, regulations, edicts, hearings, reports, judicial review and a whole new bureaucracy of Federal employees. Under the bill ten masters of jurisprudence would be empowered to define what is meant by a "serving" and the power of the Federal Government could be used to determine what sized broccoli package was "giant" and how many servings it really contained. The rub is that to comply with the proposals companies like Proctor and Gamble would be required to spend as high as $35 million in new equipment. One canner in my district estimated it would cost his firm $5 million to comply. Obviously these capital outlays could come out of only one pocketbook--the consumer's. The bill proposed by the Administration had nothing to do with fraud. Laws are on the books already which deal harshly with those who intentionally defraud the consuming public. The Federal Trade Commission already possesses the power to crack down on mislabeling of products and the Food and Drug Administration has more than a thousand inspectors seeing to it that quality in food is maintained and that it is properly labeled. Any food processor will tell you that there is no scarcity of federal regulation under present law. In fact, there is so much of it that it constitutes harassment and extraordinary costs. If the truth were known, the most mislabeled legislation ever presented on Capitol Hill is the "truth-in-packaging" bill itself. It purports to help the housewife, but does no more than add regulation and requirements which raise the cost of food.

Fortunately, the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee exposed this mislabeled bill and watered it down because the Administration wanted its slogan to pass. It probably will, but most of the harmful regulation which was written around the slogan has been dropped. But the all-out effort to pass such obnoxious regulation shows the seriousness of "legislating by slogan". As Columnist James J. Kilpatrick has put it, it "is the lunatic notion that small evils must be cured by the enactment of large laws. It is accompanied by the companion notion that government's role is to serve as shepherd to a flock of idiot sheep." Such extensions of Federal power will inevitably rob the people of the right to think for themselves. As Kilpatrick said, "Men must be left free...to buy their own potato chips".

Obituaries Final rites for Carolyn Doetsch; Mayor's mother

A long illness has claimed the life of Mrs. Carolyn L. Doetsch, 88, mother of Ralph Doetsch, mayor of Campbell. Mrs. Doetsch died in a Los Gatos convalescent hospital where she had been a patient for many months. Funeral services were conducted yesterday from Faber's Chapel of the Hills in Los Gatos followed by Requiem Mass at St. Lucy's Church, Campbell. Mrs. Doetsch and her husband, the late Joseph P. Doetsch, operated a prune, apricot and walnut orchard in the Vasona Avenue area since 1920. Since Doetsch's retirement, several years before his death in 1964, the orchard has been operated by his son, Ralph Doetsch, 1580 Dell Avenue, Campbell. In addition to Ralph Doetsch, two other sons survive, Francis Doetsch, Los Gatos, and Joseph Doetsch, Walla Walla, Washington. Also two brothers, Paul Byer of Orange City, Florida, John Byer of Chicago and a sister, Miss Katherine Byer of Florida. She is also survived by eight grandchildren and one great-grandchild. She was a native of Illinois.

Raymond Correia
Funeral services were conducted this week for Raymond Correia, former ferryboat operator on the Richmond to San Rafael run. Correia died in a local hospital. He was 84. He had been ill for several months. The family home is at 226 N. First St., Campbell. Correia had worked 20 years on the ferries, retiring several years before he moved to Campbell in 1960. Final services were conducted from Campbell Memorial Chapel, followed by a Requiem Mass at St. Lucy's Church. Correia is survived by his wife, Mrs. Emily Correia; two sons, Raymond Correia of Alameda, Walter Correia of Berkeley, and a daughter, Mrs. Emily Olson of San Bruno. He was a native of the Azore Islands.

A CHILD POSSESSED
A new novel by R.C. Hutchinson

Even in middle age Stepan Lopuchine remains
- belligerently - a free soul. An aristocrat by birth, he is now, in the 1960's by choice, a lorrey driver in Marseille. Contemptuous of sham and conventionality he has committed himself to love and marriage with only one woman, an internationally famous actress. Their own child, a retarded child, now fifteen is confined to a Swiss hospital. Stepan has a single course, to rescue his daughter from the dark world she endures. A Child Possessed in an intensely moving and illuminating story of a love so strong it can-almost-achieve a miracle.

West Valley students, faculty to organize public forum

Students, faculty and townspeople in the West Valley College area are invited to attend an organization meeting of a forum for public discussion of issues of general current interest.

The meeting, according to the organizing group, will be held at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, Sept. 29 in room K-9.

Gary Miller, instructor in speech, will preside at the meeting and will explain the purposes of the forum and how it will be conducted. Miller emphasized that the general public should feel free to participate even though the general student body will probably decide by ballot what subjects will be discussed.

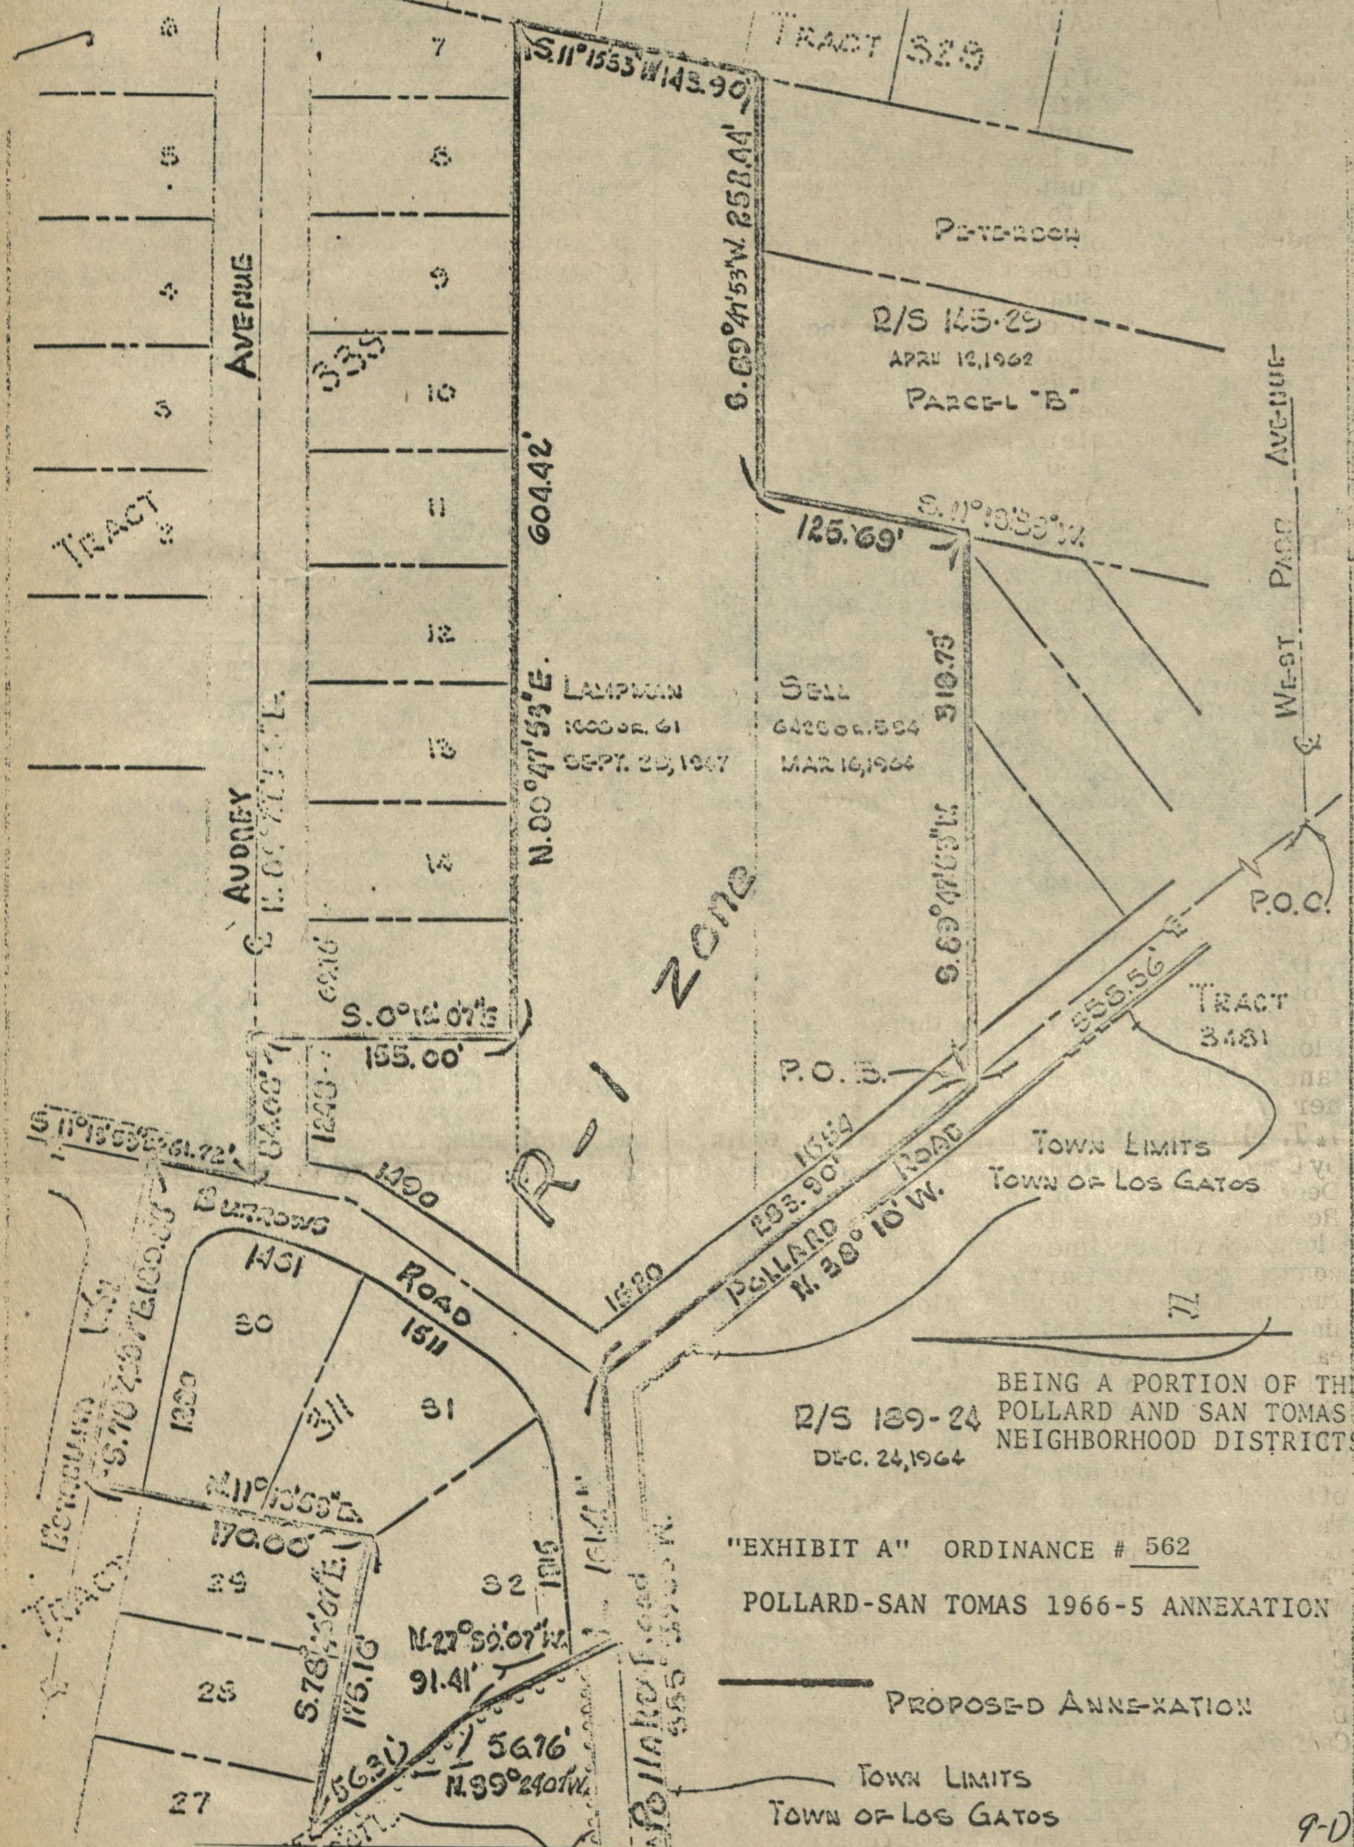

David Tipton, also a speech instructor and coach of the college's forensic teams, will also address the organization meeting.

The meeting will "kick-off" the college's forensic activities for the year, and Tipton will outline the program in debate, oratory, ex tempore and oral interpretation competitions.

Early returns give Campbell good start for United Fund

Campbell United Fund drive is off to a good start as early returns indicated at the Sept. 22 preview report meeting of the Central Area UF Chapter board, campaign cabinet and agency directors.

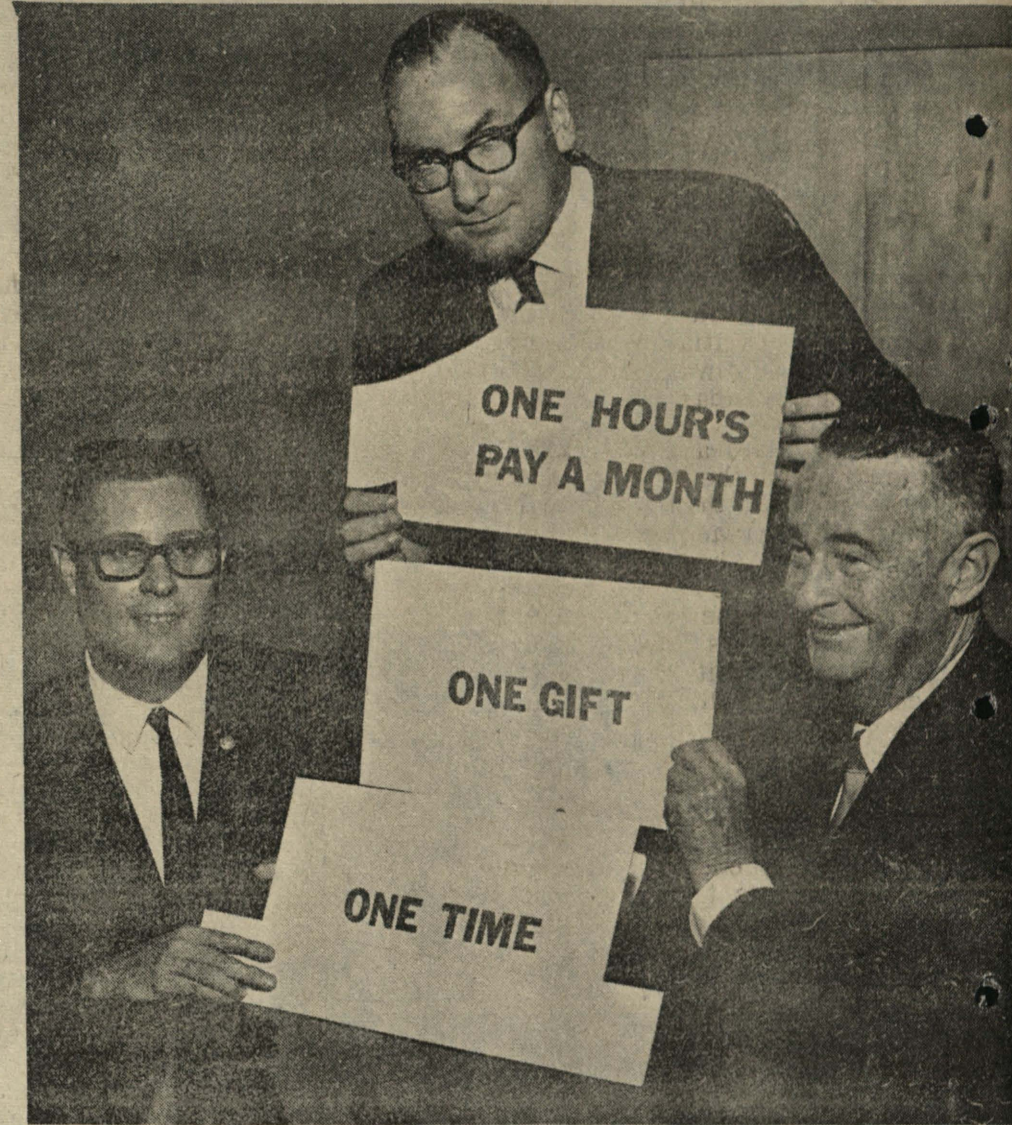

IBM employees in their many local facilities, including the Information Records Division plant in Campbell, were recognized at the meeting as the first employee group to complete their 1966 UF campaign and contribute more than $100,000.

Employees of the Campbell IBM Information Records Division plant contributed $4,325 of the total amount, which represents a 68 per cent increase above their last year's donations.

Richard E. Andis, personnel manager of the IBM Campbell facility, served as United Fund chairman for the plant. For his outstanding leadership and achievement, Andis was presented with the United Fund "good guy" award at last week's meeting.

County United Fund President, Brian H. Fottrell, presided at the preview luncheon meeting which included 80 UF volunteers and agency representatives.

"This year's $1,431,354 goal is the minimum amount needed to keep our agency programs going, and we can't just stop at that point. The amount of 'plus' money available will be directly related to the extra effort put forth into the campaign

"THE BIG ONE" -- That's the way these United Fund leaders describe the start of the UF drive in Campbell.

Council to act at next meeting on sign appeal

Because one councilman was absent (Mayor Ralph Doetsch because of the death of his mother), the Campbell City Council Monday night deferred until Oct. 10 action on the appeal of Bill Harrison from a Planning Commission ruling.

As Councilman Charles Rose pointed out in making his motion to continue the hearing, four councilmen would have to agree, thus it would be more fair to Harrison, to have all five present.

Harrison is appealing a decision of the planning commission which specified that a proposed sign for his building could not project from it and all other non-conforming signs on the building would have to be removed before even that permit would be granted.

Harrison, in appealing, claimed that the commission was discriminatory in its action in forcing him to remove his non-conforming signs while not taking action against any other such violators in the city.

He also complained that the commission used a proposed ordinance, still in its drafting stages, to deny him a projecting sign which is permissible under the present ordinance.

Most of the councilmen expressed concern that a future ordinance, which not yet had even come before them, could be used as any basis for ruling on a current situation.

They also were worried how best to approach the problem of getting the non-conformists on the sign front into line. They agreed that the approach had to be fair but also they felt it was necessary to start some place.

Although all of the councilmen appeared ready to vote on the issue, the motion to continue was carried unanimously.

Young billiard players get break

Conceding that the operators of the two billiard establishments in town that cater to the younger generation were doing a good job in offering "wholesome" recreation to the small fry, Campbell city councilmen on Monday night agreed to slightly modify restrictions in the present ordinance.

But the modifications agreed upon were not as extensive as the operators of the two establishments, Charles Wagner, of "The Pocket", and Frank Witham of "Campbell Billiard Center" would have liked.

The councilmen agreed to change the present ordinance and allow the billiard centers to stay open until 2 a.m. They now have a 1 a.m. closing time.

The city fathers also agreed to drop the age limit to 14 from the present 16 for those who want to play without having their parents around.

During the lengthy discussion on the subject, both Wagner and Witham took the floor to describe how their places operate in comparison to similar establishments in other cities.

Mrs. Witham also spoke in favor of removing other of the present restrictions. The operators felt that no age-limit was necessary because of their rigid personal supervision and that staying open later than 2 a.m. on occasion would not be harmful.

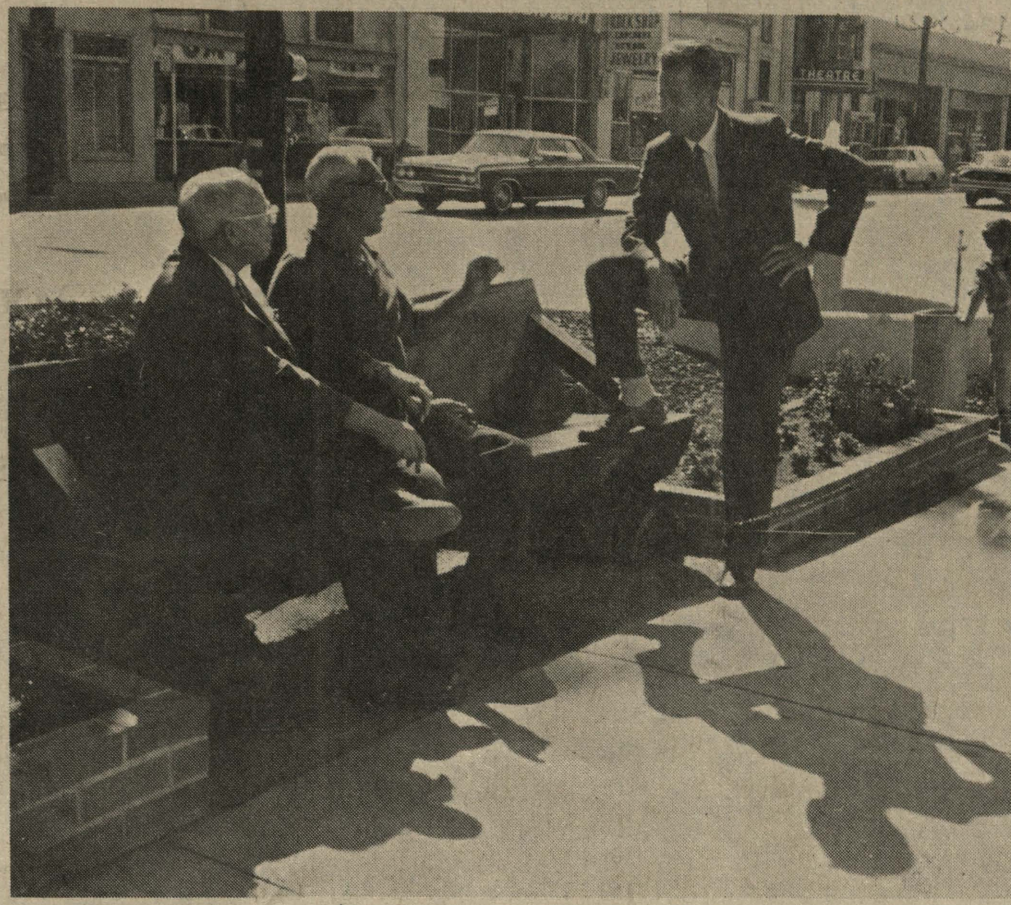

Although the councilmen conceded that the modern billiard center was a far cry from the old "pool hall" they felt that there should still be definite restrictions on their operation.

The councilmen were also mindful of the fact that Police Chief John Morgan had recommended that none of the present restrictions be lifted.

BENCHED -- Chamber of Commerce Manager Jim Duffield (left) and City Manager Bob Stephens (right) listen intently while LeRoy Black, city park superintendent, explains some future park plans for the city. They took part last Friday in the dedication of this city's smallest but most complete park under the walnut trees at Hamilton and Campbell avenues. The bench was made from Campbell's historical Roosevelt Redwood, planted by President Theodore Roosevelt in 1903 which stood at Winchester and Campbell avenues for more than 60 years. The tree was removed when the intersection was widened.
